Research Notes

Instructions: After choosing your font for your typography poster, you will research background information about your font using the following guidelines. For each criteria, try to be as detailed as possible without copying the information from your source. This should be in your own words to get credit. Also, make sure to cite your sources. A website address (URL) is not a citation.
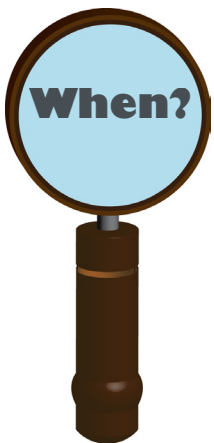

Who? Who is the creator of the font?

What? What is the purpose of the font? Why was it created? How is it used? What is the font classification, and what styles are available with it? What is the history of its development and use?

When? When was it created?
